

ALABAMA REPORTER.

TALLADEGA, ALA.

THURSDAY, June 1, 1865.

FOR GOVERNOR
COL. M. J. BULGER.

Our terms of subscription and advertising will be changed to suit the change in currency. Persons indebted to the Reporter, either for subscription or advertisements, and who prefer to do so, can pay in provisions.

Political Arrests.

We understand that Ex-Governor A. B. Moore of this State, and Geo. W. Gayle of Cahawba, have been arrested and sent to Montgomery. The former charged with the seizure of the Forts, Mendenhall and other property of the United States within the limits of the State of Alabama before the act of secession. The latter charged with being the author of an advertisement published in the Selma Dispatch over the signature of X. proposing to raise a million of dollars with the view to making peace in a given time and suggesting the killing of President Lincoln, Seward and Johnson.

Railroad in Operation.

The trains are again running on the Ala. & Tenn. Railroad. They came through from Selma for the first time on Monday last. The valley creek bridge west of Selma has been completed since that time and we presume the rolling stock of the road will be brought over at once and the regular daily trips be resumed.

The completion of the road will be a great relief to our people. It will enable Gen. Chrysler to bring up from below the supplies for his garrison. We also learn that Judge Thornton went down to the train on Tuesday for the purpose of making arrangements to bring up a large supply of corn which he had previously purchased for the indigent families of the County. If he succeeds it will relieve many who are reported to be suffering for the want of bread. J. W. Falkenwerder, who has been route agent ever since the road was built, brought up on Tuesday quite a number of old mail matter, letters, papers, &c., chiefly of date about the last of March and first of April. Unfortunately they bring but a small quantity of news. This we presume was not John's fault, however, as he generally brings all that is in hand.

We hope to see the Post Office at Talladega reopened in a short time and the mails bringing us a regular supply of news. At present a man with a late paper created a sensation wherever he goes. Friends receiving late papers in this quarter of the world will confer a favor on us and our readers by giving us an opportunity to republish such items as may be of special interest.

The Trans-Mississippi.

We have reliable information from the Trans-Mississippi of a very definite character.

The mission of Col. Sprague, U. S. A., to Lieut. Gen. Kirby Smith, has not resulted in anything as yet, owing to the impossibility of securing concurrence in the military councils of the Confederates.

Gen. Smith was disposed to surrender, but the generals commanding Missouri troops, Parsons and Shelby, demanded amnesty for themselves, which is not accorded in the proclamation of the President.

Col. Sprague returned on the B. L. Hedge, and is accompanied by a Missouri Colonel, who goes with him to Washington, to confer with the authorities on this subject. If the Generals are not included in the amnesty they propose to join Maximilian.

See Advertisement of Capt. Becker, Provost Marshal at this Post.

Gen. Kirby Smith and General Buckner both made speeches on the 18th to their troops in favor of continuing the war. The wives of these Generals came down on the flag of truce boat; Mrs. Smith on her way to Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Buckner to Kentucky.

The Louisiana troops are deserting in great numbers and returning to their homes. The people are generally despondent.

Cotton can be bought very low for gold. Several boats are loaded, ready to come out of Red River, as soon as permitted.

The parish of Ayovella, from Alexandria down, is overflowed.

Another flag of truce boat is to come down on the 24th. Nothing has been heard on Red River of Hood's crossing the Mississippi. — [N. O. Picayune.

North Carolina.

A PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR VANCE.

The Palegh Standard of the 2d gives an account of Union meetings in many prominent cities of that State, and announces others. It also repudiates Governor Vance, and says: Let the people meet together and commune freely, in the face of the sun and in the eye of light. They are now free. No bastiles frown and no conscript officer stands ready to hurry his victim in handcuffs to the front. We are once more Americans, all; let us rejoice that this is so; and let us take the necessary steps to reorganize our Government, to rest the broken ligaments of social order, and move forward once more in that career of prosperity and glory in which we were so rudely and ruinously interrupted by the recent civil war.

The following is published in the Raleigh papers of the 3d instant:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
Greensborough, April 28, 1865.

Whereas, By the recent surrender of the principal armies of the Confederate States, further resistance to the forces of the United States has become vain, and would result in a useless waste of blood; and

Whereas, All the natural disorders attendant upon the disbanding of large armies are upon us, and the country is filled with numerous bands of citizens and soldiers disposed to do violence to persons and property.

Now, therefore, I, Zolton D. Vance, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in the sincere hope of averting some of the many evils which threaten us, do issue this, my proclamation, commanding all such persons to abstain from any and all acts of lawlessness; to avoid assembling together in crowds in all towns and cities, or doing anything whatsoever calculated to cause excitement, and earnestly appealing to all good citizens who are now at home, to remain there, and to all soldiers of this State, to retire quietly to their homes, and avert themselves in preserving order, should it become necessary for the protection of citizens.

I also appeal to the good and true soldiers of North Carolina, whether they have been surrendered and paroled, or otherwise to unite themselves together in sufficient numbers, in the various counties of the State, under the superintendence of the civil magistrates thereof, to elect or stay any bodies of lawless or unprincipled men who may be committing depredations upon the peaceable citizens, assuring them that it will be no violation of the parole to do so; and I would assure my fellow-citizens, generally, that under God I will do all that may be in my power, to settle the Government of the State, to restore the civil authority in her borders, and to further the great ends of peace, domestic tranquility and the general welfare of the people. Without their aid I am powerless to do anything.

By the Governor,
M. McPHERSON, Private Sec'y.

HEAD QUARTERS,
ARMY AND DIVISION OF WEST MISSISSIPPI,
Mobile, Ala., May 8th, 1865.

GENERAL FIELD ORDERS,
No. 26.

The Maj. General Commanding hereby announces to this Army and Military Division, that Lieut. General Richard Taylor, commanding the Department of Alabama, Mississippi and East Louisiana, yesterday surrendered the forces under his command, with all munitions of war, the 8th day of June next (1865) be and other property belonging to the Confederate Government, now under his control.

All officers and men are to be paroled; officers giving their individual paroles, and commanders of regiments, detachments and batteries signing the paroles for their men. All will be permitted to return to, and remain at their homes, without being interfered with, as long as they comply with the conditions of their parole, and the laws of the country. Excepted from this privilege are all officers and men, who are residents of loyal States.

The surrender of property does not include the side arms or private horses or baggage of officers, nor horses belonging to enlisted men, which are bona fide private property; such horses they will be permitted to take with them to their homes, to be used for private purposes only.

Transportation and subsistence will be furnished at public cost for the paroled officers and men, to the nearest practicable point to their homes.

The time and place of the surrender will be fixed by the respective commanders, and be carried out by commissioners appointed by them.

The surrender disposes of all that remains of the Confederate forces east of the Mississippi, after the surrender of Lee's and Johnson's armies, and offensive operations in that portion of this command which lies east of the river, will therefore cease, so long as the inhabitants show proper observance of the laws, and respect to the rightful authority, of the United States.

The troops will, however, be kept well in hand, and ready at all times for any service, for which they may be required. Whenever detachments are sent for the special protection of citizens against jayhawkers, and other lawless characters the conduct of the officers and men, must be such as to inspire the people with confidence and respect, and no depredations, however slight, nor interference with the citizens in their lawful pursuits, must be permitted.

Commanders of forces stationed in the interior will at once collect the necessary information to enable them to report to these Head Quarters, to what extent supplies can be provided in the country occupied by them, without causing inconvenience to the inhabitants.
